State vs. J. F. O'Connor, arrested at Gilead with a consignment of 70 gallons of liquor evidently consigned to Rumford, arrested by Deputy Hastings of Bethel. Arraigned on two complaints, one for illegal transportation and one for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors. Pleaded guilty to both counts, and was fined $100 and 30 days in jail on both.

Respondent appealed from the sentence of the court. Bail was fixed at $200 on each charge. Failing to furnish, respondent was committed to jail.

The continued case of R. N. Brown, for cheating by false pretenses, which was held Friday morning, Mar. 20, was rolled over on account of lack of evidence by County Attorney. He was re-arrested for having a mileage book from A. Mont Chase of Bryant Pond. He was found guilty and sentenced to 15 days in jail and was committed.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Mrs. W. H. Young of Bethel is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nevins.

Hamlin Lodge K. of P. of South Paris will visit Penn. Lodge K. of P. of Norway, March 28, at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Chandler, who have been with relatives at Bryant Pond for several weeks, because of Mrs. Chandler's illness, returned to Round Pond, Monday. Mrs. Chandler's health is much improved.

It is expected that Rex theatre will be opened some time in April. The work is being rushed along and John Hutchins and crew are finishing the painting. The woodwork is stained in green and the walls are terra-cotta. The floors will be laid next week.

The ladies of South Paris and Norway W. C. T. U. will hold an all day institute meeting at the Norway Methodist vestry, Wednesday, April 1 at 10 a. m. There will be a picnic dinner and it is hoped all the ladies of the Union will be able to attend.

Hai, Adkins and Lester Ashton are accused of stealing a pig by O. M. Cummings. He says they pulled it out of the back of his wagon last Sunday morning. The boys claim they found the young squaler in the road and followed after Cummings but he would not stop.

Lake Temple No. 45 Pythian Sisters held a white party at the Pythian Hall, Tuesday evening. There were about 75 present and a very pleasant evening of whist and dancing was enjoyed. The music for the dance was furnished by Fred Davis and Bernice Nash. There was 18 tables at whist and each was laden with candy, peanuts, sandwiches, fancy crackers, etc.

Mrs. A. J. Stearns' Sunday School class met at her home on Orchard street, Saturday evening and organized the Pollyanna club. The following officers were elected:

Pres.—Margene Hunt.
V. Pres.—Leona Sloan.
Treas.—Ester Pike.
Sec.—Medeline Nevins.

After the business meeting a social time was enjoyed. Refreshments of sherbet, cake and candy were served.

Oxford Eastern Star met at Masonic Hall, Saturday evening, and was organized, and was given authority to work under a dispensation. At the meeting of the Grand Lodge a charter will be granted and the officers installed by the Grand Officers. At the meeting, Saturday night, the Grand Secretary, Josiah Cobb of Portland, and Mrs. Estelle Briggs of Canton were present and exemplified the work. Twenty-eight took the degree. Six visitors were present.

J. C. Rockwell's Sunny South Co.

That uncommonly strong combination of colored talent, known as the J. C. Rockwell Sunny South Co., the show that never disappoints, the one that never misrepresents, is announced to appear in the Norway Opera House, Friday evening, April 3.

This company was seen here two years ago and at that time it made good every promise. This season Mr. Rockwell claims to have the newest, freshest, most artistic and thoroughly equipped colored show ever sent on tour. He backs his claim and arrests public attention by presenting a musical performance that has more up-to-the-minute novelties and original ideas than any similar organization.

As on its former visit, it will be found to be clean to a fault, and during the entire performance there is not a live, an action, nor an insinuation to which exception can be taken. The light, which will be handled over the foot-lights, is all new and needs no arrow to point the way to the laughs.

The organization is accompanied by a solo concert band and a superb orchestra. The band will head the Koonoon parade, taking place at 4.30 p. m. Seats are now selling at Stone's.

Subscription Rates.

Orrington Cummings says he thinks things have come to a pretty state of affairs when a man can't come up the street in broad daylight with a pig in the back of a wagon, without having it stolen, and says we ought to have a day police as well as a night. It seems he was driving up street on the frozen ground and the pig bounced out, but Orrington didn't know it. Two young men scooped the animal and returned it to the surprised owner.

Norway Merchant 42 Years.

C. N. Tubbs engaged in business in Norway, 42 years ago on Thursday, Mar. 26. He was born in Norway, Aug. 27, 1837, and remained at the old homestead farm till his majority when he engaged in the manufacture of wagons and carriages for about five years.

In 1862, he returned with his father to Gorham, N. H., where they established a grocery store and meat market under the firm name of James Tubbs & Son, and continued in this line till 1887, when in co-partnership with his uncle he engaged in the general merchandise business under the firm name of O. & C. N. Tubbs which remained in force till 1872 when with his father he returned to Norway and erected this store and restaurant where he now lives and conducted a general grocery business with gratifying success under the style of C. N. Tubbs & Co. His father died in 1884, but the firm name was retained.

"On coming to Norway they bought the lot of the late Capt. Jonathan Blake, and the two story house just back and below the store stood where the store now stands. It was moved to its present position and the store built. Prescott Pike lived in the house when it was bought.

About sixteen years ago George E. Tubbs was a partner in the business. George Tubbs was at the time of his death, cashier of the Norway Savings Bank. Several years ago, Mr. Tubbs leased his store to E. C. Winslow for a few years.

At present C. N. Tubbs' son, James N. Tubbs, is actively conducting the grocery business in this store.

At one time the son, James Tubbs, and his father were engaged in the manufacture of custom shoes in the factory on Main street, where the Knights of Pythias building. This business was established by E. E. Millett, known as the Pine State Shoe Co.

A Narrow Escape.

Monday morning Ransom Gould had a narrow escape from being seriously injured.

Mr. Gould was unitching his horse at the depot where he was going to unload the cattle from his cart. For some unknown reason the horse started to run. One of the tugs being fastened slewed the horse around. Mr. Gould, to keep the cart from crushing out, grabbed the horse by the bit and threw him. He came to the horse fell across his chest.

Men came to his rescue and released him from his perilous position. He had no bones broken but was badly shaken up and bruised.

Masonic Reception.

On Tuesday evening, Mar. 24, Oxford Lodge F. & A. M., gave Brother James O. Crooker a reception, it being the 50th anniversary of his being made a Mason. He was made a Mason in New Hampshire, but soon afterwards came to Norway. A large number gathered at Masonic hall in the evening.

A time spent in a social way, a nice banquet was served, then came dinner speeches with H. D. Smith as toastmaster, and later on games were played till the evening was far advanced before anyone realized it.

On adjourning it was acknowledged by everyone present to be another bright spot in Masonic life.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. R. L. Powers has her spring millinery opening Thursday and Friday, Mar. 26 and 27. There are 70 trimmed hats. Mary Adams, Lillian Powers, Hazel Block and Blanche Lane are the milliners.

There are small and medium hats. The plates are tilted on one side by using the cache-peigne under the side or back. Sallor and derby hats with narrow brim. The hats are high on side and very narrow brim on opposite side. Watteau models are very good, trimmed with ribbon and flowers. In trimmings, flowers, jets, ribbons, plain moire, Baya, straw, Roman stripes are used, and both wide and narrow plaited.

Tall slender effects are made of maline or flowers. Long spike ornaments of jet to hold ribbon and feather in place. Jet trimming in bands, crowns and ornaments are seen; small and novel effects in flowers; net, chiffon and maline are good.

Shades are—Corbeau, dark green, charmeuse and mid-night blue; also dark green, Chypre, and tango shades. Lynx is lovely in the soft shades.

We notice a leghorn, rolls high at the left side back, plaited white maline around the crown, two bunches of flowers on the sides. A Watteau shape of white shadow lace shirred, the crown covered with moss rose buds, a cache-peigne in corbeau ribbon. A champagne chip with wide mustard ribbon across the top, large yellow rose on right, cluster of roses on left. A ribbon top turban in tango shades, plaited maline around brim. Two fancy stick-up effects on each side made of fruit.

A black and white turban with two black ostrich feathers high in the back, small flowers twisted around the feathers. A double brim castor, faced with castor velvet, a stand-up bow of charmeuse ribbon, wreath of forget-me-nots and small roses. A black turban with tango crown of maline, maline plaited around crown, a palm leaf maline stand-up, jet ornament. Green Milan hat with plaited, fine wreath of heliotrope around brim, a spike of green maline on left side finished with fruit.

A heliotrope hat with plaited maline and wreath of pansies around brim, a spike of aster and sweet scented geranium leaves. A black hat trimmed with a torch bow in blue, the flames coming from top of maline to represent flames. A hat in tango, on the left side French bread sticks to represent a trellis twelve inches long, with wisteria and sweet peas across the crown and on the trelis. A tango hemp with black maline balls on each side. A high black rolling turban with a hedgehog quill of blue-moire ribbon.

Can You Doubt It?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated,

When so many grateful citizens of Norway testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Norway says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

C. E. Bradford, prop. laundry, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "Sometimes I had a dull pain through the small of my back, together with a tired feeling. I couldn't rest well. When a friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at Stone's Drug Store. After I used two boxes, the pains left and there was a great improvement in every way. I have had no trouble since."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills the same that Mr. Bradford had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FALLING HAIR AND ITCHING SCALP
Needless—Use Parisian Sage.
Now that Parisian Sage can be had at any drug counter it is certainly needless to have thin, brittle, matted, stringy or faded hair. No matter how unsightly the hair, how badly it is falling, or how much dandruff, Parisian Sage is all that is needed. Frequent applications and well rubbed into the scalp will do wonders—it acts like magic. The hair roots are nourished and stimulated to grow new hair, itching scalp, dandruff and falling hair cease—your head feels fine. Best of all, the hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life and beauty. You will be surprised and delighted with Parisian Sage. Try at least one fifty cent bottle from Noyes Drug Store. He will refund the purchase price if you are not satisfied. 12-13

Down on the Farm.

Says old man Hastings, with a frown, That there ain't much use movin' to town. And crowdin' into a four-room flat Where there ain't nuff room to hang your hat. Where eggs cost about a nickel apiece, And butter is sold like axle grease. We gotta admit there's a lot of charm In livin' right out on the old farm.

When the wife and children want to And see a good movin' picture show. When they're shovin' a pertickler fancy reel, And kin get on there in the audience. The town folks ain't got nothin' on us, In spite of all their show and fuss. We got to laugh at 'em on their own place, And fine washstands for their hands and face. A bathtub, too, we can fill right quick, And we don't have to go jump in the creek. So far as the day's news is concerned, There's turned few things we haven't learned About our own one-two-three.

For we've got a party phone, you see, And we are never late in gettin' our mails, For the rural delivery never fails.

We do all the things the city folks do, Our children go to the colleges, too. And we don't garb as quick as quick as they. We've got all the latest in macines, We get all the high-toned magazines, We get the same things in our old think tanks, And quite a lot of dough in the city banks.

When it comes to dress, why, we have to lair. We have got the latest in a mile and a half. For "what" you can no longer put us down, "Rubes" nowadays are still livin' in town.

Going Home.
It isn't much, it is not far—
Your journey through the "States Ajar."
When you don't feel like leavin' home,
And we shall meet our "welcome home" on the road.
Then why, for sorrow, ye of earth!
Do you begrudge the joys that meet us,
Cheer up! you're coming too, tomorrow.
Cheer up! you're coming too, tomorrow.
There's naught to weep about. Rejoice!
If you believe as you pretend
To be a friend in our heavenly friend,
You would not call this "States Ajar."
You would not dread our "welcome home" on the road.
Then why, for sorrow, ye of earth!
Do you begrudge the joys that meet us,
Cheer up! you're coming too, tomorrow.

By the Mile or the Hour.

When in Europe, if you ask how far away any place is, they never tell you in miles. They say it is so many hours. We presume the time will come when, if we ask a farmer how far his farm is from town, he will tell us in minutes if he has an automobile; and in hours if he has a horse and buggy. It is a rather hard thing in these days to have a farm ten miles from town. The only thing we can do is to move the farm to town; not into the town, for that would be a bad thing, but make it less hours or less minutes, as the case may be. This we are doing now and will continue to do until the distance, by means of good roads, is a negligible quantity.

How? Why, just in one way; Make the roads better. It will shorten the miles any shorter, but it will shorten the time it takes to go to town and back. We are glad to see that the roads are getting better in the prairie states every year. There several things that have brought us to realize that we can have fairly good roads if we want them.

The first in order was rural mail delivery. We want our mail, and we cannot afford to have the roads impassable. Therefore we drain them and grade them so that the carrier can bring us our letters and papers. The next thing in order of time to aid us in this was the road drag. It came in about the time the automobile came in. We found out that by proper use of the drag we could have fairly decent roads much of the time. They have not found out about all yet; but there are neighborhoods where by the use of the drag we can shorten the distance to town very materially.

Perhaps the most potent influence has been the automobile. Farmers who were able are buying automobiles. They were bitter against them in the road, threatened to puncture the tires with a shotgun and all that; but as soon as the farmers themselves began to buy, they began to take an altogether different view of the matter. A farmer told us the other day that he was the most bitter man in the neighborhood against the automobile, but he has just paid over 2,900 for one that he has a renter at that; but a renter who had a long lease and had made a lot of money these last few years.

In these days we bring the farm nearer town. It is not usually desirable to have the farm right up against the town. It is too easy for the boy to get to town; but with good roads it is not a matter of very great importance, especially on a stock farm, whether the farm is three miles or six, or even eight or ten miles from town.

To the man who wants good, hard roads right away, we seem to be moving slowly. In reality we are making stupendous progress. It is not long ago since we had to slog down and creep over them. Now it is as smooth as a billiard table; they are mostly of concrete and covered levelly improving. There is evidence of intelligent grading in almost every county. We are really getting along quite well.

What we need most is a few miles of strictly first-class road in each county, the kind best adapted to the conditions in that county. It will vary according to the accessibility and the cost of road-making material. We should have these sample roads so that people can see what they are, how they are made, and what they cost. They will be extended with astonishing rapidity after they are once begun.

CATARRH OF THE PHARYNX.

Clearing out your throat every day, all day. That is what you have been doing for months. Possibly years. A little mucus covers the pharynx.

If you were to go to a doctor he would tell you that you have pharyngitis. If you were to look into your own throat you would find just back of the soft palate a red, lumpy, granular appearance of the back part of the throat. Pharyngitis the doctors call it.

Perhaps he would call it, follicular pharyngitis. It causes you constant annoyance. You are always making slight disturbances when seated in an audience. Can't hold your throat still. Stringy mucus bothers you. Worse in the morning.

A-hem! A-hem! A-hem! That is the way you are going nearly all day. Sometimes in the night when you wake up. You ought to gargle your throat with salt water every morning. Cold salt water. That clears out the throat perfectly and makes it ready for treatment.

Peruna is the treatment. Begin with a teaspoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Try it for a week. You will be convinced. Of course, Peruna will not entirely relieve you in a week. That is too much to expect of any remedy. But it will benefit you so much you will be convinced. Yes, it will. It has done this many times.

Follicular pharyngitis. Big words. Almost as bad as the disease. But if you take Peruna for one month regularly, you may forget that you ever had such a disease. Then you will have a perfect right to forget the big words too.

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

Feed the Winter Birds.

When deep snow covers the ground and the mercury runs low, the struggle for existence with all wild creatures becomes acute. Indeed, with some it must be crucial. In many cases the question, "To be or not to be," is answered by the food supply.

The squirrels either hibernate or live on such stores as they have made during the season of plenty, as when the snow becomes too deep, some are forced to long wanderings, and hard toils hardly exceeded by those of Ulysses. A few refuse to apply for an ear of corn or even waste from the table left near the stone wall or pasture fence may appease their hunger until nature provides them other means of support.

But the birds, the restless creatures of the woods, must have their meals daily and having a particular high temperature and rapid circulation must have abundance of food or suffer.

On these cold mornings they will be noticed, crouching to cover their feet with their feathers as they hobble about the feeding grounds, or weed patch, for a breakfast.

With a little pains and little or no expense, we may lighten their struggles, and enjoy their presence by providing the staple ration from the table, the grain box or the refreshing floor.

A few doughnuts placed on the branches of the shrubbery or the garden, or the young shade trees before the door, will prove attractive to the active, merry Chickadees. Pieces of meat trimmings, or chunks of suet, tied or tacked to the limbs of trees, and in their forks, will be appreciated by Chickadees, Nuthatches, Woodpeckers and Jays.

A handful of fine grain scattered in a conspicuous spot, on the sunny side of the wood pile, or in the road, will provide for the sparrows of several kinds. A better way is to select a sheltered spot where the sun shines during the forenoon, shovel the snow away, or erect a simple shelter where a bare spot may always be found, and here scatter a shovel full of hay seed and chaff from the barn floor, with a little oats and corn, if desired.

Here the Tree Sparrows, Snow Buntings, stray flocks of Redpolls and Goldfinches, chance Juncos and even if barley, or canary seed be added, Pine Grosbeaks may be expected to take regular or occasional meals. The corn will supply the Jays.

A tray shelf, with rim an inch or two high, fastened in some tree near the window, provided with the same rations, will be visited and especially appreciated by the Jays.

Even though no birds are seen, remember that nature has given them a wandering disposition, which at once keeps their blood in circulation and brings them, sooner or later, to every bare spot.

In their wanderings their sharp and experienced eyes are searching for every dark break in the white blanket, every spot where the shadows of gullies and hills make their appearance through the snow, and each dark spot is examined for the seed or injudicious insect that there may be basking in the sun.

In providing food for birds, it should be remembered that pussy observers neither season nor game law, and the feeding place should be selected with respect to her accustomed path, far enough from it to insure the safety of the invited guests.

These suggestions purposely deal with the most simple methods of winter feeding; a field of invention and elaborate contriving is open to the ingenious and interested.

Our Audubon Societies urge all to do something to relieve the hunger of the winter birds at the earliest moment; and until the bare ground again supplies their needs, and each person to remind his neighbor of the needs of the birds and the pleasure their presence gives.

How to Make and Put Up Nesting Boxes for Birds.

One reason why people in cities have not been successful in that native birds which nest in boxes will not settle in numbers where English sparrows, cats and quail are numerous.

Nesting boxes for the smaller birds should be made with entrances so small that gray squirrels cannot get in. Sparrows may be kept out of the wren's nesting boxes by making the entrance not over one inch in diameter. They may be discouraged from building in other nesting boxes by taking their eggs, which involve no cruelty or by keeping the boxes closed until the sparrows have built elsewhere, and then opening them about May 1, when the native birds have mated.

The entrance holes of the nesting boxes should be 1 1/2 inches for chickadees, 1 3/4 inches for bluebirds or swallows, and 2 or 2 1/2 inches for martins. Pine wood is the best material for a bird house as it is light but strong and durable enough. Metal or pottery may be used if put up in the shade. The log nesting boxes, hollowed out in the European style which are now so popular with our people, do not seem quite so popular with native birds as the old fashioned, square, built nesting boxes, which may be very easily and cheaply made. We must allow the birds to be judges of what they want. The inside measurements of a box for wrens may be 8 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 6; for chickadees 8 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 6; for bluebirds, 4 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 6; for swallows, 5 x 6 x 12. The longest dimension is always the vertical one. These measurements are not arbitrary. The boxes may be larger but not much smaller. The swallow box may have a perch but this is not absolutely essential.

The back board should project two or three inches below the box so that it may be nailed or screwed to a pole, building on trees. The roof may be horizontal or sloping toward the front, and it should project at least two inches over the entrance hole which should be near the top. The top should be easily removable, for many reasons. Gipsy moths will harbor in nesting boxes and lay their eggs there in July or August after the birds have gone. The sizes of the entrance holes are most important. If trace hawks or squirrels attempt to enlarge them they may be reinforced with tin or zinc.

Most people put up too many bird boxes at first. The birds quarrel for them and sometimes do not nest in them at all. Boxes should be placed at least 100 feet apart at first, 200 feet is better. After the first comers have settled and have eggs or young, a few other boxes may be put up. I have known several pairs of swallows to nest in the same house, but this is very rare. Nevertheless, in one case, after one pair was well settled they allowed another pair to nest in a box put up, lower down on the same pole.

Poor Blood is Responsible for much sickness and suffering because its quality determines our resistive power.

With poor blood we are languid, susceptible to colds, lack natural energy and ambition, and the gradual decline of strength makes prompt and careful treatment necessary.

Drugs or alcohol cannot make blood and must be avoided.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is nature's grandest blood-maker because of its wholesome medical nourishment, so carefully predigested that it assimilates without taxing digestion and quickly increases the red corpuscles of the blood, strengthens the organs and tissues and upbuilds the whole system.

Absolutely nothing compares with SCOTT'S EMULSION to purify and enrich the blood to overcome or avoid anaemia. It is totally free from alcohol or opiates and your health demands the purity of Scott's.

Howard N. Emery, who has been staying with his aunt, Mrs. Glenn Brooks the past seven weeks, returned to his home in Portland, last Sunday.

March 29, is go-to-meeting Sunday. It is most earnestly desired that everybody, who is in the habit of going, and those who are not in the habit, will go on March 29th, and keep it up the remainder of the year.

Rev. E. H. Stover and Rev. E. A. Davis of South Paris exchanged with each other, last Sunday. We are always glad to have Pastor Davis with us. When he began his Missionary work in Oxford Co., he first came to Bryant Pond, ten years ago last October.

Mrs. Ellen Williamson of Berlin, N. H. was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Roy Wheeler, the first of the week, and Mrs. Rinda Coffin came home from Rumford, Sunday, to see her sister, Mrs. Alfred P. Chandler before she went back to Norway. Mrs. Alice Coffin was also there, making a party of four sisters together, which was very pleasant.

There was a failure last week to report the meeting on March 12th, and the success we think it had. There was a free supper at the Grange dining-room, and over 100 people partook; after that they went up into the Grange Hall, where each enjoyed a social hour. The speakers, Wesley J. Veir of Portland, General Sec. of State S. S. Association, J. J. Hall of Portland Supt. of Adult Organized Bible class department, C. L. Buck of South Paris Supt. of Oxford Co. Association, and Rev. E. A. Davis of South Paris, were very interesting and much truth was told us, and the responsibilities of parents to their children and the community, was made very plain. There was singing by the audience and Rev. E. A. Davis, also by the male quartet, Alden Chase, Laura Day and Mrs. Stover, with encore by each one. It was an evening well spent and highly enjoyed by all.

The friends at North Woodstock gathered at the Chapel there, Saturday evening, for an entertainment, the object, to raise some money to repair the inside of the Chapel. There was a small admission fee, and recitations were given by Clara Jackson and Mrs. George Cushman, and by many of the smaller children in a very nice way. Music by Elva and Lillie Abbott, both singing and instrumental, also by John Hemmingsway and George Hudson, with encore, Rev. E. A. Davis from South Paris assisted by singing in the "Bible Sunday" meetings at Pittsburg, Penn., Mrs. H. H. Cushman and Mrs. Fred Whitman engaged in a contest to raise some money, by getting votes; Mrs. Whitman for Irving Thompson Hemmingsway and Mrs. Cushman for Bessie Cushman, at 5c, each. I think Mrs. Whitman secured $25 for the church and Mrs. Cushman $12.35 after taking out a present for the children. It was a very good entertainment and a good number present.

James W. Powers of Litchfield is staying with his daughter, Mrs. Eliza Newell.

The Republicans of Woodstock will hold a caucus, Saturday, Mar. 28, to elect delegates for the State convention.

Edwin R. Perham of Somerville, Mass., will locate in town soon, and it is understood that he will assist in the management of Dudley Cottage the coming season.

An effort is being made to have the terminal of the milk train service at this place, instead of West Paris the coming summer, and a petition has been presented to the Grand Trunk Co.

Harry H. Crockett has rented his summer cottage for the present season to E. S. Cooper, trainmaster on the Grand Trunk. Mr. Cooper has also leased Mrs. Emily Felt's cottage for one of the officials.

Mrs. E. A. Record gave a farewell party last Friday evening, March 20th, in honor of Mrs. Ellsworth Hill, who was moving to Woodlawn. It was a great surprise to Mrs. Hill as she had been most of her friends good-bye that day. The evening was spent playing whist, also some fine selections on the piano and a solo given by Laura Day; Alden Chase gave two solos and some clever readings given in his usual happy manner. The entertainment was highly appreciated. Mrs. Record made a great effort to have the evening pass pleasantly. A treat of oranges, peanuts and candy was served. Mrs. Hill left at a late hour with best wishes from all. She has made many friends during her short stay in Bryant Pond and will be greatly missed in our social gatherings.

Hon. Herbert P. Gardner of Patten is the Progressive nominee for Governor.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla, Old-time Remedy, Makes Pure Blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla surely and effectively removes scrofula, boils and other blood diseases because it drives out of the blood all the humors that cause these diseases. They cannot be successfully treated any other way. The use of external applications for their removal has been proven to be almost useless because they cannot drive out the impurities that are in the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure rich blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. The skin becomes smooth, clean and healthy. This great blood remedy, has stood the test of forty years. Insist on having Hood's, for nothing else acts like it—there is no "just as good" medicine, no real substitute. Get it from your druggist and begin taking it today.

NORTH WATERFORD.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Dr. G. W. Soule's Dental Discovery.
Dr. W. Soule, dentist of Boston, who with his family spends his summer vacation with his wife's father, John B. Hazen, at Norway, has discovered a new method to check the ruin of teeth by the use of X-ray, according to the Boston American.—At a lecture before the students of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Dr. Soule, a Boston dentist, demonstrated a new discovery in dentistry known as the X-ray treatment for pyorrhea, or sore gums, which disease noted dentists asort cause the loss of more teeth than ordinary decay. Dr. Soule is an instructor at the college where he announced discovery.

He said in part:—"To make certain that there could be no mistake, I continued this investigation through a long series of patients and found that, with out a single exception, by proper application of the X-ray the pyorrhea disappeared permanently."

"Sore gums, contrary to general belief, are not caused by acidulous saliva, but rather by a germ that gets into the tarter of the teeth and eventually, if not checked, causes destruction of the bone process which holds the teeth in place. It has been stated that sore gums cause the loss of more teeth than decay, and for many years dentists have sought vainly for a remedy for this germ of destruction."

"My theory regarding the discovery is that the X-ray splits the air into its component parts, freezing the oxygen and as a free agent causing it to readily attack the germ and destroy it."

"The treatments are usually of ten-minute duration and continue at intervals covering a period sufficient to completely remove the causes."

Dr. Soule has also discovered a special method of photographing the teeth by the X-ray method which enable him to easily discover the hidden causes of teeth troubles. The photographs are later presented to his patients when the dead root or other cause of the ailment has been removed.

Bark and Pulp Wood Shipments.
Charles A. Prida has bought bark the last winter for L. W. Smith & Co., of Canton, having shipped to them some 15 car-loads and averaged from 12 to 15 cords a car-load of bark. He got $6.50 a cord. He also has shipped 48 car-loads of pulp wood.

Fryeburg.

John Locke.
The death of John Locke who was for 36 years chief clerk in the Maine Central general freight office, Portland, died at his home on Beacon street, late Friday, after a long and hopeless illness from Bright's disease.

Mr. Locke was born in Fryeburg and was a son of John Locke, who for many years was a leading factor of that town. He graduated from Fryeburg Academy and from the Maine State College 37 years ago and came to this city, the following year, entering the employ of the Maine Central as a clerk in the freight office, passing through the various positions until he became chief clerk which position he continued to fill for the remainder of his life.

Mr. Locke was faithful to a degree, painstaking and accurate in every detail of his work and as careful of the property entrusted to him as though it was his own.

In addition to his work for the railroad Mr. Locke was prominent in the Pythian order and also in the Red Men, being financial secretary or treasurer of nearly all the bodies of which he was a member. Mr. Locke was laid aside from active work some time ago and Mar. 1 he was placed on the retired list in order that if he recovered he might pass the rest of his life without the necessity of working so hard upon so many exacting details as had been his lot for many years.

Mr. Locke married Alice Abbott of this village. He leaves a wife and two sons and one daughter, a sister and one brother. Mr. Locke was 57 years of age.

Henry Hurlin of Jackson has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hurlin.

Walter Mansfield was home for a few days, but went away, Saturday.

James W. Eastman is improving the bright days, learning to run his car.

John Hutchins went to Lewiston with a load of cattle one day last week.

A. A. Perry was able to ride out last week. She has been shut in all winter.

The family who lived in Geo. Richardson's house have moved over to Fred Ela's house.

Mr. Hobbs, who has been in charge of the town farm the past few years, will leave soon and go to Massachusetts.

Mrs. Martha Charles, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Bickford, is very poorly. Mrs. Charles is past 90 years of age and has always been very well.

Mrs. George Walker entertained a dinner party Friday. Mrs. Walter Mansfield, Mrs. Chas. Gammon, Mrs. Laura Weeks and Mrs. Lillian Pike were the guests.

Mr. Woodside and wife have moved into T. N. Charles' house and have rented the store, formerly occupied by Harold Russell, and will keep dry goods and millinery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Tarbox spent a few hours in Denmark, Sunday, with Mrs. Martha Frye, who is at Mr. Colby's. Mrs. Frye has been ill for a long time and suffers a great deal.

Mrs. A. M. Abbott gave a recital by her youngest pupils at her studio, Monday afternoon. Many friends were present and were much pleased with the entertainment, which showed to advantage the patience and skill of their teacher.

BROWNFIELD.
Andrew Blake has been spending the past week in Boston and Brockton.

Alvans Stuart has gone to Boston to purchase millinery for her spring opening.

A. W. Taylor, Prin. of the High School is boarding at Chas. W. Harmon's.

Henry Bartlett was in Portland this week to visit his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Clement at St. Barnabas Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Files and little daughter, Dorothy, of Cornish are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lincott.

Mrs. J. E. Clement, who recently underwent a critical operation at the St. Barnabas Hospital, Woodford, is reported comfortable.

Mrs. Sylvia Cousins, who has been working for Howard Littlefield for some months, will spend several weeks with her father, Hiram Seavoy.

Being through the ice one day this week on Burnt Meadow Pond, Will Bennett caught a pickerel that weighed 13½ lbs., one of the largest ever taken from the pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Arthur Linscott gave a wedding reception at the T. W. Hall, Thursday evening. About 200 were present and enjoyed music and dancing. Many beautiful and useful presents were received, showing the affection and esteem in which this popular young couple are held. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and the evening much enjoyed.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak."

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling like a new woman. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.

So. RICHMOND, VA.—"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."—Mrs. D. TYLER, 23 West Clopton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand.

LODI, Wis.—"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt better, and now I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. JOHN THOMPSON, Lodi, Wisconsin.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Nothing Can Keep Fresh After It Is Cut Up

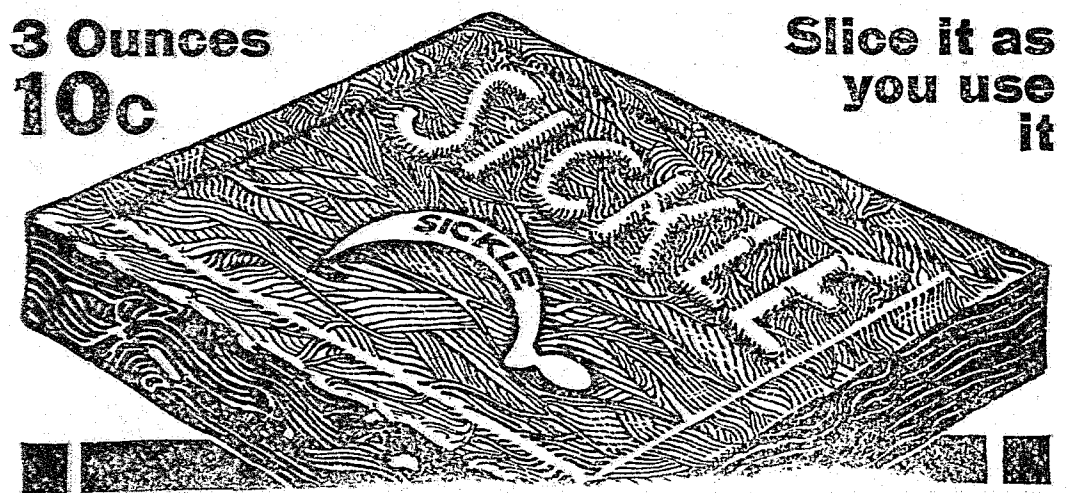

You can't expect the chopped-up tobacco that comes in packages to be fresh, because it has been chopped up too long a time. Most of the natural moisture and flavor escapes from the small particles of tobacco before they are put in the package. By the time you smoke them, they are so dry that they burn fast and bite your tongue.

All the flavor and fragrance of the tobacco is pressed into the Sickle Plug and held there by nature's own covering—the natural leaf wrapper. When you whittle a pipeful off the plug you get fresh tobacco—slow-burning, cool-smoking, rich and sweet.

You don't pay for a package—don't waste any tobacco—and get more tobacco for your money. Buy some Sickle at your dealer's today. You'll find the Sickle way is the only way to get a satisfying smoke.

of a Fertilizer is the harvest. Will you supply your crop with all the substances it requires to give a satisfactory yield? Lowell Animal Fertilizers have been scientifically prepared to meet the requirements of New England soils. They supply just the substances that are needed—organic animal matter with high grade chemicals; they are always the same and always reliable.

WILL CONTINUE TO USE LOWELL FERTILIZER.

I am very well pleased with Lowell Animal Fertilizers. I had about 4000 barrels on nearly 35 acres of ground, not as large this year as I have had in some years, but larger than the average grower has had this past season, which has been very wet and backward. I expect to use your goods as long as you make them as satisfactory as in the past.

100 Years Old in February.

The town of Hiram was incorporated 100 years ago. Its number in the list of towns in this State is 168 and it is one of seven that became an established community that year. Nestled among the forested hills of the White Mountains, 37 miles from Portland, it is on the southern tier of towns in Oxford County. From its lofty mountain peaks a broad and fertile country is spread out before the eye, across the South and East, while on the North and West, range after range of hills and mountains, all leading up to the crowning heights, the Presidential Range just across the line in New Hampshire.

Saco River flows from the base of Mt. Washington in a winding course through Oxford and York counties to the sea. It is the line of division between several York and Cumberland County towns, the western boundary of Baldwin and Standish. In the upper part of the town its placid surface is calm and takes no heed of the downward dash over ledges and around boulders, a drop of 75 feet at Hiram Falls. This superb fall is in full view to passengers on the Mount Washington train, a short distance above West Baldwin station.

Maine was a province of Massachusetts when incorporation was adopted. There had been a long struggle by the pioneers in the valley of the Saco and with first settlers, in the time of the Revolution, were not altogether at ease for fear that Indian depredations might be renewed. It was not until 1781 that the last raid of the redskins occurred at Bethel in Oxford County, not far from Hiram.

Despite the dangers of the war, the log cabins in the valley above the Falls in 1774.

Singularly enough, it was a former British officer, who led the pioneers to the wilderness the year previous to the issuance of the Declaration of Independence, Lieutenant Benjamin Ingalls. There has never been a time since that the Ingalls families in the Saco Valley in that section have been lacking.

So far as his history can be traced, Lieut. Ingalls was born in London in 1728, served several years in the British army and in the campaign in Canada, left the army in 1765 and traveled into Maine to establish his home. Five others, in trepid and accustomed to hardships like himself, journeyed to this spot and cleared lands above Saco Falls. Ingalls' site was on the west side of the river and is now occupied by the village at Hiram Bridge. His companions, Daniel Foster, Abiel Messer, John Curtis and Ebenezer Herriek, measured off fine properties along the river intervals above the falls on both sides of the Saco.

It is not difficult to understand why these pioneers fell in love with Hiram Falls and the beautiful spot which they chose as their future homes. The country was in its natural state, rich with dense virgin forests of massive pines, giant oaks, tall spruce and other trees. The axe of man had not been swung ruthlessly along the river banks and on the rough sides of the great mountains which hemmed in the valley. Even now, after the forest of pines has been slashed the marketable growth on almost every available acre in the town, the old time charm of the country has not gone altogether.

Ingalls built his establishment some where near the present Bridge Junction station. The cellar of his great house, great in those days and which replaced his first cabin, was visible a few years ago and may be now. The decayed trunks and tops of four great butternut trees near the spot where the brave British soldier came to work with his own hands, felling trees, clearing his intervals and raising crops.

James Howard was the nearest neighbor on the north, settled in Brownfield and from this place came his grandson, Joseph Howard, later Mayor of Portland and seven years a judge of the Supreme Court. Boys and girls have been unwilling in the last half century to stay on the farms as their fathers and grandfathers did.

What a change has been wrought in 100 years, however, where the telephone, telegraph, mail carrier service, good roads, good horses or even motor cars, trains and trolley cars are available now. Experiences of the early settlers were vastly different, however, in the early days of rough logs, chinked with mud and moss, ladder showing small variety and often scanty quantity, neighbors miles away and the winter winds made all the more nerve racking by the howling wolves who frequently roared about the cabin door or carried off the cow, pig or horse of the isolated settler. It was necessary to build the cabin door of thick planks and to have the firewood handy because hungry wolves were persistent, desperate in winter.

Hiram was one of the first towns settled along the upper Saco valley, all the Oxford towns having first been occupied by white men as permanent residents in the last 80 years of the 18th century. Its early growth was necessarily slow, for the rugged slopes of its wooded and rocky hillsides. Gen. Peleg Wadsworth was one of the exceptions.

Wadsworth hall was built by this veteran major general of Revolutionary war service in 1800 and it is the show place, not only of the town but of the countryside for many miles around. It is occupied by John B. Pike, whose wife is a great granddaughter of the founder of the estate. Here are gathered many of the oldest families of the State. Gen. Wadsworth passed his last years, dying in 1829. His fame will last as long as history records or memory relishes the gallant deeds of the founders and preservers of the Country.

Gen. Wadsworth was the big man of the town in its early days, 30 years after Ingalls and his associates hewed down the first tree and turned the first furrow within its confines. He lived in Duxbury, Mass., at the time of the war and came to Portland in 1785. An enterpriser in this city with which he was associated and in connection with which his name is imperishable here, was the construction of the Wadsworth-Longfellow house, adjoining the Preble House.

This was the first big house built in Portland, erected in two seasons. Brick were shipped from Philadelphia and it is built to withstand the storms and frosts of centuries, walls 16 inches thick and set in solid mortar. Only the first story was erected in 1785 and two stories was the height of the first house. Fire damaged the upper floor and roof and an extra story was added in 1815 by Stephen Longfellow, father of the poet. Mrs. Longfellow was Zippa Wadsworth, daughter of the general.

Gen. Wadsworth represented his district in Congress 16 years and declined re-election. A description of him, written by his daughter at the time he first dwelt here is an exact portrait of the prosperous patriot of that time. She says: "Imagine to yourself a man of middle age, well proportioned with a military air and who carried him-

CASTOR OIL IS DIFFERENT NOW

THAT IS, THE TASTE AND ODOR HAVE BEEN REMOVED

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil Is The Best Laxative in 3000 Years.

Spencer Kellogg & Sons of Buffalo, oil refiners, have succeeded in taking the offensive taste and smell out of castor oil.

The Kelloggs have done what chemists have tried to do and failed for 3,000 years.

Doctors recommend castor oil as the simplest, safest and best laxative. Every household will use it often, now that it is tasteless.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is pure, clear, refined castor oil, and is entirely without taste that children take it easily.

This perfect laxative is now on sale in all drug stores. Order Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil by name, to distinguish it from various mixed and flavored castor oils, which are not tasteless. The trade mark is on every label—a green castor leaf bearing the signature—Kellogg's 25c and 50c sizes.

Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., refiners of vegetable oils. For Sale by Frank Kimball.

Down on the Farm.

How well do I remember my childhood days down on the farm where I dwelled so happy and free, and never a thought of the city in my mind. How well do I remember the green meadow and the deep whooping brook, there I passed some of the "roast happy hours" of my childhood with a line and hook. And as I drew the speckled beauties from the stream this was one long, pleasant dream, then at the close of day as I drove the cows through the green pastures home I never dreamed of the care and trouble that I would meet when from the dear old place I should roam. Many happy hours did I pass away gathering wild flowers and wandering through its leafy bowers. Now when my life work is ended and from this life I have passed away I hope they will lay me to rest down on the farm where I used to play. GEO. M. FINE.

Retired Georgia Planter's Advice To Kidney Sufferers.

Regarding the wonderful curative merits of your Swamp-Root, I cannot say too much. After suffering severely for three years or more with severe pains caused by weak kidneys, I was finally induced to try Swamp-Root through a testimonial I read in one of the newspapers. I was in such a condition that I was obliged to arise from my bed six or eight times every night. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and before it was used I felt so much relief that I purchased a one-dollar bottle and by the time this was taken the old pains had left my back and I could sleep the whole night through. I am a retired planter, 70 years of age, and owing to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I am in the best of health and feel like a boy. I am always glad to recommend Swamp-Root to those who are in need of it. Sincerely yours, C. E. USSERY, Bowersville, Ga.

Personally appeared before me, this 8th of September, 1909, C. E. USSERY, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact. T. H. McNamee, Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

From What Swamp-Root Will do for You. Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Norway Weekly Oxford Co. Advertiser. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottle for sale at all drug stores.

Worms are Enemies of Children

Worms are one of the most dreaded diseases of children. There is nothing better than Dr. True's Elixir to expel worms of all kinds and to keep the stomach in good order. First manufactured by my father in 1851. Our mothers and grandmothers used this remedy and found it to be ideal for its purpose. Some of the signs of worms are: Deranged stomach, furred tongue, belching, variable appetite, increasing thirst, acid or heavy breath, nausea, enlarged abdomen, variable bowels action, pale face of leaden tint, bluish rings around eyes, itching of nostrils, languor, irritability, disturbed sleep, grinding of teeth, irregularity of pulse. If your child is not one of the robust kind, start in to use Dr. True's Elixir, today. 35c, 50c and $1.00. Advice free. Write me. 12-13

Green Peas for the Boston Market.

Editor Norway Advertiser: It occurs to me that it might be of interest to your readers to know something about our experience in handling Maine grown green peas in this market. Last season (1913) a group of about 40 farmers in Carmel and Etna, Maine, (near Bangor) raised and shipped to us a large amount of green peas. We have just finished compiling some statistics in reference to this business, and the results have been extremely interesting as well as surprising. We addressed a letter to all these growers asking them to fill out a blank stating acreage planted; varieties of peas sown and total number of bushels picked. The figures given in answer to our inquiry indicated that the best yield per acre was 54 bushels, and the highest, 174 bushels; while the entire average per acre was 111 bushels. As will be remembered the season of 1913 was extremely dry, and the foregoing figures would undoubtedly be largely exceeded under more favorable weather conditions. These peas were shipped to us in coarse sacks (many old fertilizer sacks were used) holding a bushel of twenty-eight pounds net; the express charges were about twenty-five cents per bushel, and we commission 10 per cent of gross sales. The shipping period was from July 10th to August 25th. The highest average daily price for all peas was sold $2.02 on July 12th; and the lowest 95 cents on August 6th. The aggregate of our entire receipts for the season averaged to net the grower at his point of shipment, a fraction of a cent over one dollar per bushel. It should be borne in mind that on account of the dry season, many of the peas were very poor indeed, and that these poor peas brought the average down materially, such peas as a farmer would use on his own table, seldom if ever sold for less than $1.50. The writer was born and raised on a Maine farm, and his business activities have brought him in contact with soil products in many states from Florida to Minnesota; and it has been written large everywhere that the greatest prosperity among farmers has been enjoyed where there was the greatest diversity of farm products produced. Going back to the subject of peas: here seems to be a crop not difficult to raise and more than ordinarily profitable which will give the farmer cash much earlier than any other crop. Farmers are not inclined to plant more than one or two acres and should use two or more varieties, planting them at different periods so as not to have them mature at the same time. The cost of picking is somewhat more than the cost of picking sweet corn; but the cost of hauling is much less. As to varieties: the Carmel and Etna farmers used the Admiral Dewey, Gradus, Telephone and Duke of Albany. Four of them used Admiral Dewey exclusively and their yield was 133 bushels, 145 bushels, 150 bushels and 174 bushels per acre respectively. It is always advisable to plant a less acreage and give it proper care and fertilization, than to plant a larger area with less care. Modern methods all point to concentrated, intensified effort, and all maximum results are being achieved along that line. In no other branch of endeavor is this better illustrated than in farming. Would be pleased to answer any inquiries.

Remember the Homeland.

Dunlap, Iowa, March 1, 1914. To the Norway Advertiser: Gentlemen—Enclosed you will find draft for $1.00, to renew my paper, which is out March 3. I think your paper is all right. It came to me every week and gave me lots of news of Old Maine, though I have been away a long time. Was born in the town of Stow, Oxford Co., about one mile from Stow Corner. I left that town when a small boy and came to South Waterford where I lived until my mother died in 1896. I was born on June 17, 1843, came West in 1871, but I was back there three years ago on a short visit and went to South Waterford to visit my mother's grave. Artemus Ward or Charles Brown is buried in same cemetery. I had a brother who was in the Civil War and was held a prisoner at Andersonville for a month and 6 days. He lived many years at Great Works and died there a few years ago. His family lives there yet. Please excuse the writing for I am getting old. There are two men living at South Waterford, who were with me in the Speckled Mountain fight, one is Eugene Nelson, the other, G. I. Hamlin. J. H. WALKER.
